

“In their shoes...Walk the path of peace with us” was the theme for the annual luncheon. Volusia County Council presented a proclamation declaring October as “Domestic Violence Awareness Month.” The Honorable Judge Fields once again swore in the new members of the Board of Directors for the Domestic Abuse Council of Volusia County. The momentous occasion was part of the Domestic Abuse Council's annual Meeting and Luncheon which was held at Sunset Harbor Yacht Club in Daytona Beach. Guest speakers included testimony from a survivor and Victoria Williams, Miss Pasco County whose platform is Domestic Violence: Breaking the Generational Cycle. About 160 local community members supported the event this year.

This picture symbolizes the shoes of survivors who were not at the lunch starting to start the path of peace

CEO Cheryl Fuller and County Councilwoman Joie Alexander who proclaimed October to be Domestic Violence Awareness Month” for Volusia County.

CEO Cheryl Fuller delivering the visionary speech.

Victoria Williams, part of the Miss American Scholarship program and Miss Pasco County.