"Movers for Moms" is a national program with Two Men and a Truck moving company. Locally the company collected over 3,000 items by coordinating with local schools: Westside Elementary, Turie T. Small Elementary, Ortona Elementary, DeLand High and University High.

Mohawk Industries, NYSE:MHK, donated 624 square yards of commercial grade loop carpet with a retail value exceeding $15,000.00. The carpet in the shelter has not been replaced in over 10 years.

Being generous and creative motivates the students at Calvary Christian Academy in Ormond Beach. As part of their annual book fair, Janet Gresham, the school librarian accepted the challenge posed by Scholastic to participate in "One for the Books" program. As part of the book fair, each class in the elementary school was challenged to donate arts & crafts supplies for the "Hugs & Loves Children's Center" at the emergency shelter in addition to the gift of books. Thank You!

LEGAL NEWS

The Florida Association for Women Lawyers (FAWL) established the Leaders in Law designation in 2010 to recognize outstanding women lawyers across the state who have made a significant impact in their communities through their legal service and community activities. This year 26 women were selected for the honor.

Three attorneys who practice law in Volusia County were honored at the FAWL Annual Meeting held in Orlando on June 22, 2012. They are Elizabeth King, Sylvia Starbuck and Katherine Hurst Miller.

Starbuck, legal counsel for the Domestic Abuse Council of Volusia County Inc. uses her law degree to give a voice to those who are unable to speak for themselves. During her career, she has worked for the Central Florida Legal Services as well as the Domestic Abuse Council, where she provides free legal representation to victims and survivors of domestic abuse.
